Payment Schedule

ARCH Profile works with a pre-paid credit system. Clients can put funds into their account depending on their needs and the number of tests they expect to administer. Most tests cost US$10; abridged tests are discounted. When you assign tests to a test-taker, the appropriate amount of money is put "on reserve". Once the test-taker completes a test, the amount is actually taken from the client's account. Clients can move money from the reserve back into the bank of available funds by un-assigning tests.

Table with 3 columns: Purchase amount, Bonus, Effective price per average test. Rows include purchase ranges from US$500 or less to US$5,001+.

ARCH Profile offers pricing flexibility. You can purchase tests credits on an as-needed basis, or get substantial bonuses when buying in bulk (purchases of US$500 or more). Bonuses are automatically credited to your account.

ARCH Profile User Agreement

Summary: Therapist Testing Center Account

Includes:

1. Availability of all PsychTests.com tests.
2. Ability to assign specific tests to individual clients electronically.
3. Administrative access to client test results.
4. Service Level Guarantee: The system, including the database suite and individual test modules will be updated and maintained at a schedule comparable to system maintenance on Psychtests.com.
5. Limited warranty: Plumeus will cancel charges for individual testing sessions that have not been completed because of technical problems in the system (test taking session = time that it takes to complete a test and obtain complete results)

Liability

ARCH Profile may be used as an auxiliary diagnostic tool and not as a primary diagnostic tool. Plumeus does not recommend basing clinical decisions based solely on the results of its tests. Plumeus attempts to ensure scientific accuracy and construct validity. However, keep in mind that the evaluation provided by Plumeus' tests may not apply to a particular situation, may overlook specific factors important in a test-taker's life and/or may not be accurate under particular conditions. Plumeus is not liable for any damages resulting from legal disputes over therapeutic decisions or other uses of Plumeus' tests.
